

Continuing Education Policies & Procedures

Division 56 is proud to be able to offer continuing education opportunities for both live attendance and home study programs. In order to maintain our accreditation for these learning opportunities, it is critical these procedures are followed. Please contact the webinar chair if there are any questions about the process or requirements. All Division 56 presentations will be authorized for both in-person and HomeStudy continuing education credit. Any presentation may be disqualified for HomeStudy CEs and removed from the website if Division 56 or APA policies are violated.

Requirements of all CE programs

- One of the presenters is required to be doctoral level
 - This person cannot solely introduce or be a discussant. They must present meaningful content during the presentation.
- Slides must be sent to the CE chair one week prior to the presentation
 - This allows time for the chair to ensure the content meets all the requirements to maintain our accreditation and request edits if necessary
- Slides must be high quality and free of typographical errors
- If another group (e.g., APA Division or committee) is co-sponsoring the CE credit offering presentation, they must be vetted ahead of time to meet CE standards.
 - Alternatively, you can list supporting groups, as they do not have to go through the vetting process.
- The Division 56 Executive Director will be responsible for scheduling CE credit offering presentations and managing the calendar. Please cc the webinar chair on all scheduling requests.
